RAILROAD COMPETITION.-It is only little over n year ago since our merchants were subject to the inconvenience of wait jeg from fifteen to thirty days after the purchase of their goods before they could receive them and offer them for sale. This was owing to the want of proper facilities, or the want of sufficient me tive to indu the railroads to offer the facilities where the fieight could be transported in les

This delay was a heavy tax upon or merchants, for to them expressly is the maxim of "time is money" most applied de, not only in the margin of time tween the jurchase of their bill, and maturing of their obligation, but it oft happens that the sale of an article is e tirely prevented by the non-arrival of t ocds in time to meet the demand. pelled to ship freights, which were properly express matter, by the expre ines, and pay rates of freight about don't that charged ly the railroads.

A few months, however, has made great change for the better in regard to the ime consumed in transportation. Now it s no uncommon thing for the merchan neceive his invoice, from New York, and ais goods the same day, they being not over four or five days in transit.

In view of the improvement in time. have been led to investigate how this im provement has been accomplished. The only additional line of railroad tha as been completed is the Atlantic and Great Western Itailway. This new road, n connection with the Eric Hailway, made a continuous line from New York, all of the same guage, which enabled thes roads to rau their freights through without any change of cars, thus saving the delay incident to rehandling, and which, the extraordinary quick time they now make. this line the pre-eminence as a fast freight Ine. SHREVEPORT COMMISSION MURICIAN . . . Attention is directed to the circular of Messrs. Tucker & Thurmond, Shreveport. Louisiana, who solicit a commission business from the merchants, brokers and manufacturers of Louisville. The circular well presents the business of the "little city of Shreveport, and shows the im portance of that market for manufacture ! goods, agricultural machinery, and the thousand articles made in Lot sville.

The firm keeps no stocks of their own, and their 'mainess is, therefore, parely a commission one.
